NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Samoan treaty, brought to Washington by Commissioner Phelps, is under lock and key in the State Department and will not be communicated to the country until it has been submitted to the Senate.

THREE persons have died and four families are in a very dangerous condition at Carthage, Ill., from eating strawberries on which poison had been sprinkled in the field by miscreants. Judge Lynch's services are needed in Carthage.

Hon. ERNEST H. CROSBY, the author of several high license bills in the Assembly, is to be named by the State Department as the American member of the International Court at Alexandria, Egypt. This office was held for several years by Gen. George H. Batchelder of Saratoga. The salary is a liberal one, and is paid by the Egyptian government.

The Governor of Texas has been compelled to send armed troops to Wharton and Fort Bend counties to suppress a factional feud that has existed there for a year and which has recently broken out in bloodshed. So strong in numbers are the armed parties on both sides that the Sheriff is unable to deal with them. Texas is very uncivilized as well as very Democratic.

The sum of $15,000,000 is to be placed to the credit of the Pension Agents of the country on July 1st or 2d, Commissioner Tanner having made a requisition on the treasury for that amount out of the appropriation for the next fiscal year. Then the payment of pension arrears will begin, and the country will not be made to suffer in many years another experience of Democratic economy.

Mrs. DeVries, a confirmed somnambulist, was found walking in her night dress very early yesterday morning in a street of Brooklyn. The policeman who took her in charge found pinned to her dress a note giving her name and residence, and asking any one who found her in one of her "bad spells" to take her home. About three months ago she was found in one of these spells on the roof of a three-story house.

OFFICIAL returns from the vote in Pennsylvania last week have been received from all the counties except five. The vote on Prohibition is 299,995 for and 453,948 against. On the suffrage amendment the vote is 177,591 for and 366,749 against. The counties not yet heard from will increase the majority. The vote on prohibition was 159,803 larger than on suffrage. In Pennsylvania last full the total Prohibition vote for President was 20,947.

The Board of Education of the new city of Jamestown has voted to discharge all teachers of the public schools who got married. The reason for this action is stated to be the fact that several teachers got married last summer and have just made the matter public. It is to be hoped that if there are any pretty schoolma'ams left in Jamestown, the young men will not be dismayed by the resolution, which is opposed to the public welfare and will have to be rescinded.

The Circuit Court of Kansas City, Mo., has sustained a "black list" of discharged telegraph operators which was distributed by the Chicago and Rock Island railroad company to officers in the telegraph service. The court holds that the list was a "privileged communication," and useful for the information of officers whose business it is to employ operators. Blacklisting may be good law, but it is adding insult to injury when aimed at the poor fellows who have been kicked out, thousands of whom are eager to correct their mistakes if given another chance.

Mrs. WHITELING, who was hanged in Philadelphia yesterday, poisoned her husband in March, 1888, and collected $230 insurance upon his life. A month later she poisoned her nine year old daughter Bertha, and collected $122 insurance upon her. One month after this she poisoned her three year old boy Willie and collected $47 insurance upon him. Total $399. Here her income stopped because her family was exhausted. Sentimentalists profess to believe her crazy, because of the lack of adequate motive. But the old theory of the possession of a devil affords a much more plausible explanation.

Is the McDow murder trial at Charleston yesterday, Editor Dawson's pretty servant maid told the story of McDow's persevering attentions to her, of long walks in the streets and rides on the horse cars with him, and of long calls made by him at the house when the Dawsons were absent. The story was that of an inexperienced and well-mannered young girl who had been brought under the power of a strong-willed and unscrupulous man. The examination was favorable to the girl, and appears to have justified Dawson's interest in her behalf. The testimony of several surgeons that Dawson received his death wound from behind, and the fact that McDow kept the body in his office four hours and tried to bury it, are also very damaging to the defense. The prisoner has, however, acquitted his case with a good deal of apparent confidence to a colored jury, and the colored people of Charleston have thrown away no affection upon Dawson, who was a victim of negro phobia.

KENTUCKY is rejoicing in the prospect of a new city springing up in the wilderness near Cumberland Gap, the point at which the boundaries of Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia meet. The city is to be named Middleborough, and is to be founded by English capital. Over 60,000 acres of mineral land have been purchased, and steel works, rolling mills, pipe works and four furnaces, to cost in the aggregate $3,000,000, have been contracted for. A $750,000 hotel and sanitarium and two other hotels to cost $300,000, a $500,000 tannery, saw mills, brick works, railroad shops, electric light and gas works, and all the other accessories of a great city are to be provided. The company has already invested $20,000,000 and is preparing to expend $7,000,000 more. A great city, with railroads, schools, churches and newspapers will send the light of civilization into this land of darkness and murders, one of the darkest regions of the "dark and bloody ground."

OHIO STATE REPUBLICANS.

In Session To-Day. Renominated General Foraker for Governor.

William Walter Phelps Appointed By President Harrison.

COLORED MEN'S APPROVAL.

COLUMBUS, O., June 26.—The Republican State Convention was called to order at 10:10 A. M. The first demonstration was when Mayor McKinley entered the hall. It was most generous. After prayer the Harrison and Morton Glee Club, which did excellent service in the last campaign, sang, making some fine "hits" on the candidates before the Convention. The delegates kept the Club singing until they were exhausted.

The report of the Committee on Credentials was that there were no contests. The temporary organization was made permanent, and Chairman Cooper returned thanks for the honor.

General C. H. Grosvenor, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, read the report of that Committee. It was received with much applause. The platform was unanimously adopted.

Nomination being in order Senator Kerr, of Mansfield, took the stage and offered the name of E. L. Lamson, of Ashtabula, in an eloquent speech.

Colonel Robert Nevin, of Dayton, captured the Convention in a strong speech placing the name of Congressmen E. L. Foraker before it. The following were also placed in nomination: Colonel J. B. Neil, of Franklin County; Captain Wilson Vance, of Hancock County; General Robert P. Kennedy, of Logan County; and General Asa Jones, of Mahoning County.

B. H. Cox, of Hamilton, created some what of a sensation by reading the nomination of General Kennedy. He claimed a good percentage of the delegates from that County were for Kennedy. He was booed and discouraged by the other members of the delegation, all of whom have quietly posed as the special advocates of the renomination of Governor Foraker. Congressman McKinley received an ovation as he came to the stage to present the name of General Jones.

The names of Judge O'Neill, of Lebanon, and General Daves, of Marietta, completed the list of regular candidates for the nomination. General Grosvenor offered the name of Daves in a pointed speech. The friends of Governor Foraker determined to not formally present the name of their candidate, but to vote for him when the roll was called. A call of the roll on nomination for Governor was ordered, and the Convention found itself in great confusion. Adams County, the first on the list, refused to vote unless the delegates were furnished seats in the Convention. Outside, having appropriated them. All were accommodated but one and he refused to vote. The first four counties showed a majority of the votes cast in each to be for Foraker. The Foraker sentiment in the Convention as the roll proceeded was strong and enthusiastic. The first ballot resulted: Foraker, 307; Kennedy, 127; Daves, 96; Morry, 47; Jones, 96; O'Neill, 59; Lamson, 89; Vance, 45; Neil, 37; Gibson, 23; General Bushnell, 1. No choice.

At the conclusion of the ballot an effort was made to take a recess, but this was obstructed by the Foraker friends. A second ballot was ordered. Kennedy had a number of accessions, and his friends became enthusiastic before the call was half through. Foraker lost in some counties and gained slightly in others, so that he about held his own.

General Foraker was nominated on the second ballot. The band struck up "Rally Round the Flag," and the Convention joined in a general jubilation. General Grosvenor, McKinley and Mayor Gardner, of Cleveland, were appointed a committee to bring Foraker before the Convention. The Governor soon appeared and was received with wild demonstrations. He said the Republicans of the State had again nominated him for Governor and he was there to accept the trust.

It was his duty to accept the fact that his plans and aspirations were all in another direction. A party which had heaped honors upon him, he felt, regardless of his wishes, had the right to call him to duty in any capacity and at any time. He believed he understood what was to be the candidate for Governor and that alone. The last expression was received with much favor. He aroused much enthusiasm.

All of the Commissioners are expected to be present. Hon. Andrew H. Green will preside. Important matters are likely to be discussed. So strong in numbers are the armed parties on both sides that the Sheriff is unable to deal with them. Texas is very uncivilized as well as very Democratic.

The sum of $15,000,000 is to be placed to the credit of the Pension Agents of the country on July 1st or 2d, Commissioner Tanner having made a requisition on the treasury for that amount out of the appropriation for the next fiscal year. Then the payment of pension arrears will begin, and the country will not be made to suffer in many years another experience of Democratic economy.

Mrs. DeVries, a confirmed somnambulist, was found walking in her night dress very early yesterday morning in a street of Brooklyn. The policeman who took her in charge found pinned to her dress a note giving her name and residence, and asking any one who found her in one of her "bad spells" to take her home. About three months ago she was found in one of these spells on the roof of a three-story house.

OFFICIAL returns from the vote in Pennsylvania last week have been received from all the counties except five. The vote on Prohibition is 299,995 for and 453,948 against. On the suffrage amendment the vote is 177,501 for and 286,549 against. The counties not yet heard from will increase the majorities. The vote on prohibition was 159,803 larger than on suffrage. In Pennsylvania last fall the total Prohibition vote for President was 20,947.

The Board of Education of the new city of Jamestown has voted to discharge all teachers of the public schools who get married. The reason for this action is stated to be the fact that several teachers got married last summer and have just made the matter public. It is to be hoped that if there are any pretty schoolma'ams left in Jamestown, the young men will not be dismayed by the resolution, which is opposed to the public welfare and will have to be rescinded.

The Circuit Court of Kansas City, Mo., has sustained a "black list" of discharged telegraph operators which was distributed by the Chicago and Rock Island railroad company to officers in the telegraph service. The court holds that the list was a "privileged communication," and useful for the information of officers whose business it is to employ operators. Blacklisting may be good law, but it is adding insult to injury when aimed at the poor fellows who have been kicked out, thousands of whom are eager to correct their mistakes if given another chance.

Mrs. WHITELING, who was hanged in Philadelphia yesterday, poisoned her husband in March, 1888, and collected $230 insurance upon his life. A month later she poisoned her nine year old daughter Bertha, and collected $122 insurance upon her. One month after this she poisoned her three year old boy Willie and collected $47 insurance upon him. Total $399. Here her income stopped because her family was exhausted. Sentimentalists prefer to believe her crazy, because of the lack of adequate motive. But the old theory of the possession of a devil affords a much more plausible explanation.

Is the McDow murder trial at Charleston yesterday, Editor Dawson's preserver maid told the story of McDow's preserving attentions to her, of long walks in the streets and rides on the horse cars with him, and of long calls made by him at the house when the Dawsons were absent. The story was that of an inexperienced and well-minded young girl who had been brought under the power of a strong-willed and unscrupulous man. The examination was favorable to the girl, and appears to have justified Dawson's interest in her behalf. The testimony of several surgeons that Dawson received his death wound from behind, and the fact that McDow kept the body in his office four hours and tried to bury it, are also very damaging to the defense. The prisoner has, however, complicated his case with a good deal of apparent confidence to a colored jury, and the colored people of Charleston have thrown away no affection upon Dawson, who was a victim of negro-phobia.

KENTUCKY is rejoicing in the prospect of a new city springing up in the wilderness near Cumberland Gap, the point at which the boundaries of Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia meet. The city is to be named by English capital. Over 60,000 acres of mineral land have been purchased, and steel works, rolling mill, pipe works and four furnaces, to cost in the aggregate $3,000,000, have been contracted for. A $750,000 hotel and sanitarium and two other hotels to cost $300,000, a railroad shops, saw mills, brick works, and all the other accessories of a great city are to be provided. The company has already invested $3,000,000 and is preparing to expend $7,000,000 more. A great city, with railroads, schools, churches and newspapers will send the light of civilization into this land of feuds, vendettas and murders, one of the darkest regions of the "dark and bloody ground."

OHIO STATE REPUBLICANS.

In Session To-Day. Renominated General Foraker for Governor.

William Walter Phelps Appointed By President Harrison.

GEN. CAMERON'S CONDITION.

It is Reported to be Practically Unchanged To-Day.

COLORED MEN'S APPROVAL.

COLUMBUS, O., June 26.—The Republican State Convention was called to order at 10:10 A. M. The first demonstration was when Major McKinley entered the hall. It was most generous. After prayer the Harrison and Morton Glebe Club, which did excellent service in the last campaign, sang, making some fine "hits" on the candidates before the Convention. The delegates kept the Club singing until they were exhausted.

The report of the Committee on Credentials was that there were no contests. The temporary organization was made permanent, and Chairman Cooper returned thanks for the honor.

General C. H. Grosvenor, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, read the report of that Committee. It was received with much applause. The platform was unanimously adopted.

Nomination being in order Senator Kerr, of Mansfield, took the stage and offered the name of E. L. Lamson, of Ashland, in an eloquent speech.

Colonel Robert Nevin, of Dayton, captured the Convention in a strong speech placing the name of Congressman E. L. Morey before the delegates. The following were also placed in nomination: Colonel J. B. Neil, of Franklin County; Captain Wilson Vance, of Hancock County; General Robert P. Kennedy, of Logan County; and General Anna Jones, of Mahoning County.

B. H. Cox, of Hamilton, created some what of a sensation by reading the nomination of General Kennedy. He claimed a good percentage of the vote in Hamilton County were for Kennedy. He was hoisted and discouraged by the other members of the delegation, all of whom have quietly posed as the special advocates of the renomination of Governor Foraker. Congressman McKinley received an ovation as he came to the stage to present the name of General Jones. The names of Judge O'Neill, of Lebanon, and General J. M. McKim, of Marietta, completed the list of regular candidates for the nomination.

General Grosvenor offered the name of Daves in a pointed speech. The friends of Governor Foraker, who had been in the great confusion, Adams County, the first on the list, refused to vote unless the delegates were furnished seats in the Convention, outsiders having appropriated them. All were accommodated but the Republicans refused to vote. The first four counties showed a majority of the votes cast in each to be for Foraker. The Foraker sentiment in the Convention as the call proceeded was strong and enthusiastic. The first ballot resulted: Foraker, 207; Kennedy, 127; Daves, 96; Morey, 47; Jones, 96; O'Neill, 92; Lamson, 89; Vance, 45; Neil, 37; Gibson, 23; General Bushnell, of Adams County, the first on the list, refused to vote unless the delegates were furnished seats in the Convention, outsiders having appropriated them. DEMOCRATIC ECONOMY.

It is an old trick of Democrats to seek a reputation for economy by false pretenses. Mr. Randall has practiced it in Congress year in and year out, as Chairman of the Ways and Means and Appropriations Committees, and the transparent dishonesty that he has displayed has badly sullied an otherwise honorable reputation. Mr. Randall's pretended economies had always to be supplemented by deficiency bills at the next session, and so it went on year after year. Gov. Hill has just been trying this transparent dodge by vetoes of necessary appropriations and even of state obligations already incurred, which were passed by the late Legislature. Unless the state is equally as devoid of a sense of honor as our present peanut Governor, these bills will have to be paid out of some future appropriation. Of the $1,800,000 cut out of the appropriations by his vetoes, the only items which can by any possibility be avoided in future are the Normal School bills, amounting to about $150,000. The rest will have to be voted again and paid out of the Treasury. And next year the Governor will call for a million or a million and a half for the Capitol, in consideration of his veto of an appropriation of $872,000 because, as he contends, the sum was not large enough.

The worst sample of this sham economy was that practiced by Pensions Commissioner Black, with the full approval of the Cleveland administration, in cutting down the estimate for pensions more than $5,000,000 below the sum appropriated the previous year, though he had lately called for a deficiency allowance of about $10,000,000 and the pension list was steadily increasing. This despicable trick, which is depriving the most deserving and the most needy people in the United States of their means of subsistence, was played when the treasury was full to overflowing, and for no other reason than to nurse a big treasury surplus, to be employed in the Presidential campaign as the clinching argument for free trade. Mr. Cleveland could not have struck at an interest so satisfactory to himself. His vetoes of a few hundred pension bills was a small affair in comparison with the deprivation of all the pensioners in the country of their incomes for a few months. But in spite of this pretense, the vast increase of expenditures to sustain a Democratic administration with its horde of new officers and government employees, its enormous increase of salaries and its numerous defalcations and embezzlements, exhausted the surplus and held up the gloomy prospect of a deficiency in which there would be no shame, if the Cleveland administration had managed to keep alive another four years.

Is it not about time for the people to understand the sham and dishonesty of all Democratic pretenses of economy? In the nation its government has been more costly than that of any of its Republican predecessors; in every state and city in which it has gained control it has exhausted the revenues, increased the taxes, and multiplied debts. It would be safe to challenge the party to produce a single exception to this invariable and unbroken rule. The party is so "very hungry and very thirsty" that exceptions are not to be looked for or expected.

GOV. HILL'S AMBITION.

Here are a few of the official plums the control of which will drop squarely into Gov. Hill's lap if he succeeds in electing a Democratic Senate next fall:

Salary.
Superintendent of public works	$6,000
Superintendent of state prisons	6,000
Superintendent of banking department	6,000
Superintendent of insurance department	7,000
Three state assessors, each	3,500
Railroad commissioner	8,000
Commissioner of city	2,500
Three commissioners of health, each	3,500
Three civil service commissioners, each	2,000
Commissioner of labor statistics	3,000
State dairy commissioner	3,000
Three state arbitrators, each	3,000
Wardens of state prisons at Auburn, Clinton and Sing Sing

State agents for discharged convicts; three state assessors; state board of pharmacy; commissioners of state reservation at Niagara; state agricultural experiment station at Geneva; game and fish boards.

Port of New York—Three commissioners of quarantine, nine port wardens, special port wardens, six commissioners of emigration, health officer.

Here is an amount of patronage which would foot up considerably over $100,000 a year, and it would also give the Governor absolute control in the distribution of almost every dollar of the state funds. The Senate is indeed a prize worth fighting for. If the liquor dealers of the state appreciate the advantage that their "one true friend" would derive from such a victory, and can trust to his fidelity to employ it in their interest, they may see their way clear to the raising of another fund of $300,000 to help him along.

He will need it, for his methods of raising money upon favored contractors notes and widow McGinnis's pig raffles can no longer be relied upon, so thorough has been their exposure.

Besides, the Governor has an eye upon the seat of Hon. William M. Everts in the United States Senate. If he can carry the state next fall by a good-sized majority, it will be a long step towards Washington as Senator if his Presidential aspirations should be threatened with failure. The election of a United States Senator will take place in the session of 1891, and the voters will be the Senators elected this year and the Assemblymen elected in 1890. The Governor will still have nearly a year to serve in his present office, and will consequently be in position to command every Democratic vote in the Legislature.

If David B. Hill can carry the Senate next fall and fix his grip upon all the fat plums of state patronage, he will be in excellent condition for the Legislative campaign of 1890. And if he can in that year gain enough Assemblymen to carry him into the United States Senate, he will be able to darken very materially the prospects of Grover Cleveland in 1892.

But think of David B. Hill rattling around in the seat of William M. Everts. It is enough to make the fathers of the republic roll over in their graves and groan.

DEMOCRATIC POOR MEMORY.

The Springfield Union, having declared its expectation that the incoming Congress would knock some of the props from under the iniquitous and oppressive sugar trust, the Troy Press attacks it as follows:

"The foregoing remarks do not sound much like the Union's talk before election. It was not claiming for tariff reduction then, and never so much as hinted that protection is susceptible of abuse. The only duty of a protective character that is working disastrously to the people is the high sugar duty. With remarkably short memories the Democrats are now trying to place the responsibility upon the Republican party for the failure to reduce this tax. The truth is to the contrary. The sugar duty was the one on which the Republican party proposed to make a large reduction. A faint of reduction was placed in the Mills bill, but it was hardly to be expected that the Republican party would vote to let wool, salt and lumber go on the free list, in order to secure a reduction on sugar of a quarter of a cent per pound as proposed in that bill. Had the Mills bill become a law it would have made the sugar trust richer and more impudent than ever, for all the proposed reduction was upon refined sugar which would have passed through the mills of the members of the trust and thus been placed subject to their control before it became fit for common use. The Senate tariff bill, a Republican measure, made a sweeping reduction upon sugar of all kinds, raw and refined, and if it had passed into a law would have destroyed the extortionate profits of the refiners. But the head center of the sugar trust contributed a very large sum to the Cleveland campaign fund and sugar was left alone. An additional reason for letting it alone was the threat which came from Louisiana that if the tariff was abolished or essentially reduced, that state would cast its vote for Harrison and Morton.

The sugar tariff is a Democratic tariff, and the Democratic majority in Congress doggedly refused every proposition from the Republican side to modify it. The Democratic party saw no occasion for tariff reform except where it could be used to cripple some industry essentially Northern. For the maintenance of the oppressive sugar duty and the building up of the extortionate sugar trust the Democratic party is solely responsible, and its fidelity to the extortioners was paid for with a generous gift of money.

The sugar tariff protects this trust and a few sugar planters in Louisiana, and for their profit the people at large are being taxed at present at the rate of not less than $100,000,000 a year, one-half of which goes into the treasury of the trust and the other half into the surfeited treasury of the United States. Have Democratic editors forgotten, or have they started on a new crusade of lying, in the belief that the people are forgetful?

A NINETEENTH CENTURY MARTYR.

The Priest Who Gave His Life for the Lepers.—How Father Damien Died.

[From the London Tablet.]
On the 28th he took to his bed, and on the 30th began his direct preparation for death by a general confession and renewal of his vows. Next day he received the last sacraments. "You see my hands," he said, "all the wounds are healing and the crust is becoming black. You know that is a sign of death. Look at my eyes, too; I have seen so many lepers die that I can't be mistaken. Death is not far off. I should have liked to see the Bishop again; but he has been called away to keep Easter with himself. God be blessed!" On April 2 Father Damien gave him extreme unction. "How good God is," he said during the day. "The work of the lepers is assured, and so I'm no longer necessary, and will soon go up 'yonder.' "When you are up above, father, you will not forget those you leave orphans?" "Oh, no! If I have any credit with God I will intercede for all in the 'Leprosary.' "

A few days of respite, even of rallying and hope followed. The good Sisters of Charity often visited him. Everybody admired his wonderful patience. "He, so ardent and so lively, so robust, was thus nailed down to his miserable couch, yet without much pain. He was laid on the ground on a wretched mattress, like the poorest leper. We had the greatest difficulty to get him to accept a bed. And how poorly off he was! He who had spent so much money to relieve the lepers had so far forgotten himself that he had not a change of linen or bed clothes." On the 13th he had a bad relapse and all hope was at an end. A little after midnight he received holy communion for the last time, and began occasionally to lose consciousness.

The next day still he recognized his comrades, but could not speak, though from time to time he affectionately pressed their hands. On the 15th his agony began, and soon all was over. He died without any effort, as if going to sleep. After his death all marks of leprosy disappeared from his face and hands. He was buried in the cemetery of the lepers, but his body was not buried in the cemetery of the lepers, but in the cemetery of the lepers.

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

In Ulster Court of Sessions to-day a motion was made in the case of The People vs. Frank Rose by defendant's counsel to put it over the term because of the illness of Charles A. Fowler, whom it is claimed is an important witness for the defense. After argument the case was ordered over the term. This is what is known as the Riffon burglary case. The defendant was found guilty at a previous trial, sentenced to State prison and on appeal to General Term a new trial was ordered. The trial of The People vs. John Kern was next taken up. The indictment is for burglary committed at Port Ewen last April. William Miller was brought before the Court on a peace warrant. The complainant not appearing he was discharged. An officer has gone to Clinton State Prison for the purpose of bringing Daniel D. Bell here for re-sentence.

This morning Harriet F. Wood, widow of Vincent W. Carr, died at the residence of her son Albert Carr. Mrs. Carr was about 70 years of age. She was married about 30 years ago in Orange County, and later on removed to Kingston where she had lived for 40 years. The living issue of the marriage are Albert, Charles and Emma. Her husband died about eight years ago. Mrs. Carr was a member of St. James M. E. Church, and for many years a prominent worker in the same. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son on Clinton avenue at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Rev. O. Haviland will officiate. Interment will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

A young lad who met a companion who was smoking a cigarette yesterday on Hunter-street, Rondout, said: "Billy, you better look out; de papers says it's no fair for a boy who ain't 16 to smoke cigarettes." There are many laws passed by the State Legislature that are only taken notice of by newspapers. There are also many law-breaking boys in this City whose constitutions are being undermined by smoking cigarettes.

Officers here state that they have much trouble with merchants who claim that they are entitled to from 18 to 20 inches space on sidewalks for the display of goods. According to a City official's opinion there is no such provision in the laws of the City Charter, except in instances where such property is owned by the proprietor of a building which is not on the City line.

The members of Weiner Hose Company, of this City, are actively engaged in making preparations for their visit to Hudson on the Fourth of July, where they will take part in a parade. They will take with them their handsome hose carriage. A large number of invited guests will accompany the organization.

A gray horse owned by A. & J. Hasbrouck eats tobacco whenever it can get it. Recently the driver hung his coat, in a pocket of which was a paper of tobacco, on a peg in the barn. While he was engaged in work the horse went to the coat and taking the tobacco from the pocket chewed and swallowed it.

A little boy in Poughkeepsie the other day playfully pointed a toy pistol containing a blank cartridge at his mother, with the remark: "Money or your life." The cap exploded and nearly blinded the mother. This should be a warning to people in this and other cities.

It is pointed out that officers could do something for the cause of morality by promptly arresting boys for nude bathing on the Slaughterhouse side of the Rondout Creek in broad daylight. Yesterday afternoon 20 lads were counted in the water at one time.

At 8 o'clock this evening at the Fair-Street Reformed Church, Miss Julia M. Chipp, daughter of J. Devo Chipp, of this City, will be married to William L. Lounery, Jr., of Stone Ridge. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. S. D. Noyes.

"Does it rain every day here?" asked a drummer of a citizen to-day. "Nearly every day," was the reply. "Well," continued the drummer, "I have been here six times during the past few weeks, and it has rained on each occasion."

The rain, which set in early this morning, poured down steadily the greater part of the day. Merchants were disgusted expressions. Work on the "Island Docks" of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company here was abandoned.

Much interest centers in the trotting race to be placed on the Kingston Driving Park on Friday afternoon between George Young's "Rex" and John Lasher's "Mamie." The horses are matched for $1,000.

A woman, while alighting from a wagon on Ravine-street, Monday evening, miscalculated the distance to be jumped, and being of heavy weight, was so shocked that she fainted.

A member of the Young Men's Catholic Literary Association to-day said that a large number of tickets have been sold for that organization's excursion to West Point on July 4.

To-night a meeting will be held in Rondout, for the purpose of forming a Building and Loan Association. If formed the association will be entirely local in its character.

The case of Martin Dykeman, against one William Van Brumer and his son for alleged assault, was adjourned in Recorder's Court this forenoon until Monday, July 1.

The Rondout Creek has all the elements of picturesque, wooded hills, bold, beetling cliffs, and sloping upland, besides other interesting natural features.

At a meeting of the Board of Alms Commissioners to be held on Friday, July 5, a report of licensed and unlicensed saloons will be presented.

Portions of Union-avenue to-day were veritable ponds. In instances, where deep ruts were cut in the road-bed, drivers of vehicles moved slowly.

This evening the members of Aretas Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting. The Second and Third degrees will be conferred.

On the Fourth of July the West Shore Base Ball Club will play two games with the Hudsons in Fountain Park, Hudson.

It is said carbolic acid will drive flies from a room. No remedy for the carbolic acid is announced.

A regular convocation of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening.

Senator Linson will deliver a Fourth of July oration at Middleburgh, Schoharie County.

It is said rusty nails driven into elm trees will stop the ravages of worms.

Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, now has a membership of 362.

A era of better times seems to have reached this City.

Look out for "colds" these cool mornings!

This has been a dreary June day.

CARRIED OFF FATTEST OF FLOCK.

Catskill Mountain Bears are Partial to Mutton, It Seems.

Sheep-raisers in the valleys of the Catskills are annoyed at times by bears raiding the sheep-fold and carrying off the fattest of the flock. Byron Dutcher and Alonzo Hill, of Big Indian, have suffered losses in this way. Recently they lost a number of sheep while in pasture. They at first thought it was the work of dogs, but finally obtaining assistance from their neighbors they organized a hunting expedition, to see if they could find some of the lost sheep, and if not, to learn the cause of their disappearance. A large mountain, called Panther Mountain, is near Dutcher's place. When the party reached the base of this mountain they discovered bear tracks and also pieces of wool and mutton. They followed the trail toward the mountain top. The carcasses of three sheep were found buried under an old log and covered with dead leaves. Knowing the bear would return for the buried mutton the party gave up further search. The next day Hill obtained a large bear trap with spiked jaws and attaching it by means of a chain a good sized log, he set the trap near the spot where the mutton was buried. In the morning George Tyler, who lives across the valley from Panther Mountain saw a black object rolling and tumbling down the mountain towards Hill's house. Seizing his rifle he crossed the valley. It proved to be a bear. When he arrived near Hill's house he was almost at the kitchen door dragging the log and trap. The first Hill knew of its presence was a shout from Tyler "Look out for the bear!" When within good shooting range Tyler raised his rifle and fired. The bullet entered the brain of the bear and it rolled over lifeless within five rods of Hill's door. When dressed it weighed 300 pounds. It was one of the largest bears ever killed in that region. It was very fat and undoubtedly had been eating mutton for some time. Hill says he never knew a bear to be quite so accommodating as this one, for it brought the trap home and besides saved him the trouble of bringing the carcass down the side of the mountain.

The Rev. J. Steinhauser, formerly Pastor of the Spring-street Lutheran Church, left Rondout this morning for Brooklyn, where the Lutheran Ministerium of this State will convene to-morrow. Mr. Steinhauser is President of that body.

The ladies of the Rondout Presbyterian Church have joined with those of the Methodist Church in making arrangements for an excursion to Stamford on the Fourth of July.

BROOKLYN MASONS TAKE AN OUTING.

At a recent meeting of the members of Zerathia Lodge, No. 483, F. & A. M., of Brooklyn, the question of selecting a suitable resort for that organization's annual dinner and excursion was discussed. It was decided to make a trip to the Catskill Mountains. Last year the Lodge visited Martha's Vineyard. About 125 members of the Lodge arrived here last night on the steamer "City of Kingston." This morning they boarded the 7:30 train on the Ulster & Delaware Railroad and thence over the Stony Clove and Catskill Mountain and the Kaaterskill Railroads to the Hotel Kaaterskill.

Though the weather was unfavorable for sight-seeing, the trip through the Stony Clove Notch was enjoyed. Dinner was served at the Kaaterskill. Toasts were made and responded to by Past Master John Berry, of the Brooklyn Tax Department; Polk Berry, City Controller; Lawrence Torney, County Treasurer; H. R. Van Keuren, Secretary of the Brooklyn and New York Bridge Company, and others. The party will return to Rondout on the 5:30 o'clock train this evening, and board the "City of Kingston" for New York City.

THE STATE MUSIC TEACHERS.

Another Session Held in Hudson To-Day—Officers Elected, Etc.

At the business session of the State Music Teachers' Association this morning a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The Association was formally organized by the election of Professor Charles W. Landon, of Claverack, President, and George F. Greene, of Troy, Secretary and Treasurer. President Landon was empowered to appoint a Vice-President in each County of the State and several standing committees. The next annual meeting of the Association will be held at Saratoga Springs. At 10 o'clock William H. Sherwood read an able and instructive essay on "The Improved Methods and Recent Pedagogic Ideas of Leading American Piano-forte Teachers." Albert Ross Parsons read an essay on "The Principles of Expression Applied to the Piano-forte." This afternoon a homey paper read an essay on "American Church Music from Continental Times to Recent Composers." This evening a concert will be held, Mme. Teresa Carreno will preside at the piano. The Convention will adjourn to-morrow evening.

Horse Thieves Captured.

John A. Mullen, of Lackawack, has just completed a six weeks' tour through the northern counties of this State. He is an officer of the American & European Secret Service Detective Agency, and has aided in the capture and breaking up of a desperate and clever gang of horse thieves that have been working in Orange, Ulster, Delaware, Otsego and Chenango counties. The leaders of the gang would send their men out in the disguise of laborers, who would hire out to farmers, and work a few weeks at a place, and after finding out about the best horses in the vicinity, would report to headquarters. A skillful member of the gang would then be sent out to make the capture. When a horse was captured, if a valuable animal, it was passed from one to another of the gang until a safe distance was reached, when it would be sold.

Odd Fellows' Loss.

A Committee of Pennsylvania Odd Fellows, sent last week to visit the scene of the Johnstown disaster, reports a loss to the order of 33 members, 34 wives and 100 children by the flood. Three hundred members lost their household goods, and 225 owned houses and stores, which were lost.

The Grand Master of this State sent a circular letter to all the lodges of the State, and the latter have responded without exception, the total amount contributed being over $9,000.

"The King's Daughters."

The Junior Branch of "The King's Daughters" gave a successful entertainment on the lawn at Cloverly, the residence of Mrs. James L. Van Deusen, yesterday afternoon and last evening. Music, recitations and dialogues were rendered, after which refreshments were served. In a quiet way the members of the Junior Branch of "The King's Daughters" are doing a good work. Their motto is "In His Name."

Received Fatal Injuries.

While George Clark, of Port Ewen, was driving a team of horses towing a Delaware & Hudson Canal boat, at Kerhonkson, on Monday, he was run into by a team of runaway mules and knocked down. His injuries proved fatal.

Delaware County Note.

At the late meeting of dairymen in Walton, Delaware County, dash churns were condemned.

CITY AND SUBURBAN NEWS

In Ulster Court of Sessions to-day a motion was made in the case of The People vs. Frank Rose by defendant's counsel to put it over the term because of the illness of Charles A. Fowler, whom it is claimed is an important witness for the defense. After argument the case was ordered over the term. This is what is known as the Riffon burglary case. The defendant was found guilty at a previous trial, sentenced to State prison and on appeal to General Term a new trial was ordered. The trial of The People vs. John Kearns was next taken up. The indictment is for burglary claimed to have been committed at Port-Ewen last April. William Miller was brought before the Court on a peace warrant. The complainant not appearing he was discharged. An officer has gone to Clinton State Prison for the purpose of bringing Daniel D. Bell here for re-sentence.

This morning Harriet F. Wood, widow of Vincent W. Carr, died at the residence of her son Albert Carr. Mrs. Carr was about 70 years of age. She was married about 50 years ago in Orange County, and later on removed to Kingston where she had lived for 40 years. The living issue of the marriage are Albert, Charles and Emma. Her husband died about eight years ago. Mrs. Carr was a member of St. James M. E. Church, and for many years a prominent worker in the same. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son on Clinton-avenue at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Rev. O. Haviland will officiate. Interment will be in Wiltyck Cemetery.

A young lad who met a companion who was smoking a cigarette yesterday on Hunter-street, Rondout, said: "Billy, you better look out; de papers says it's no fair for you ain't 16 to smoke cigarettes." There are many laws passed by the State Legislature that are only taken notice of by newspapers. There are also many pale-looking boys in this City whose constitutions are being undermined by smoking cigarettes.

Officers here state that they have much trouble with merchants who claim that they are entitled to from 18 to 20 inches square sidewalks for the display of goods. According to a City official's opinion there is no such provision in the laws of the City Charter, except in instances where such property is owned by the proprietor of a building, which is not on the City line.

The members of Weiner House Company, of this City, are actively engaged in making preparations for their visit to Hudson on the Fourth of July, where they will take part in a parade. They will take with them their handsome horse carriage. A large number of invited guests will accompany the organization.

A gray horse owned by A. & J. Hasbrouck eats tobacco whenever it can get it. Recently the driver hung his coat in a pocket of which was a paper of tobacco, on a peg in the barn. While he was engaged in work the horse went to the coat and taking the tobacco from the pocket chewed and swallowed it.

A little boy in Poughkeepsie the other day playfully pointed a toy pistol containing a blank cartridge at his mother, with the remark: "Money or your life." The cap exploded and nearly blinded the mother. This should be a warning to people in this and other cities.

It is pointed out that officers could do something for the cause of morality by promptly arresting boys for nude bathing on the Sleight-burg side of the Rondout Creek in broad daylight. Yesterday afternoon 20 lads were counted in the water at one time.

At 8 o'clock this evening at the Fair-Street Reformed Church, Miss Julia M. Chipp, daughter of J. Deas Chipp of this City, will be married to William Lousbury, Jr., of Stone Ridge. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. S. D. Noyes.

"Does it rain every day here?" asked a drummer of a citizen to-day. "Nearly every day," was the reply. "Well," continued the drummer, "I have been here six times during the past few weeks, and it has rained on each occasion."

The rain, which set in early this morning, poured down steadily the greater part of the day. Merchants were disgusted expressions. Work on the "Island Docks" of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company here was abandoned.

Much interest centers in the trotting race to take place on the Kingston Driving Park on Friday afternoon between George Young's "Rex" and John Lasher's "Mamie." The horses are matched for $1,000.

A woman, while alighting from a wagon on Kayne-street, Monday evening, miscalculated the distance to be jumped, and being of heavy weight, was so shocked that she fainted.

A member of the Young Men's Catholic Literary Association to-day said that a large number of tickets have been sold for that organization's excursion to West Point on July 4.

To-night a meeting will be held in Rondout, for the purpose of forming a Building and Loan Association. If formed the association will be entirely local in its character.

The case of Martin Dykeman against one William Van Brunt, charged with assault, was adjourned in Recorder's Court this forenoon until Monday, July 1.

Portions of Union-avenue to-day were veritable ponds. In instances, where deep ruts were cut in the road-bed, drivers of vehicles moved slowly.

This evening the members of Aretas Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold a meeting. The second and third degrees will be conferred.

On the Fourth of July the West Shore Base Ball Club will play two games with the Hudsons in Fountain Park, Hudson.

A regular conclave of Rondout Commandery, No. 52, K. T., will be held this evening.

CARRIED OFF FASTEST OF FLOCK.

Catskill Mountain Bears are Partial to Mutton, it Seems.

Sheep-raisers in the valleys of the Catskills are annoyed at times by bears raiding the flock. Byron Dutcher says Alonzo Hill, of Big Indian, has suffered losses in this way. Recently he lost a number of sheep while in pasture. They at first thought it was the work of dogs, but finally obtaining assistance from their neighbors they organized a hunting expedition, to see if they could find some of the lost sheep, and if not, to learn the cause of their disappearance. A large mountain, called Panther Mountain, is near Dutcher's place. When the party reached the base of this mountain they discovered bear tracks and also pieces of wool and mutton. They followed the trail toward the mountain top. The carcasses of three sheep were found buried under an old log and covered with dead leaves. Knowing the bear would return for the buried mutton the party gave up further search. The next day Hill obtained a large bear trap with spiked jaws and attaching to it by means of a chain a good sized log, he set the trap near the spot where the mutton was buried. In the morning George Dutcher, who lives across the valley from Panther Mountain saw a black object rolling and tumbling down the mountain towards Hill's house. Seizing his rifle he crossed the valley. It proved to be a bear. When he arrived near Hill's house he was almost at the kitchen door dragging the log and trap. The first Hill knew of its presence was a shout from Tyler "Look out for the bear!" When within good shooting range Tyler raised his rifle and fired. The bear penetrated the brain of the bear and it rolled over lifeless within five rods of Hill's door. When dressed it weighed 300 pounds. It was one of the largest bears ever killed in the region. It was very fat and undoubtedly had been eating mutton for some time. Hill says he never knew a bear to be quite so accommodating as this one, for it brought the trap home and besides saved him the trouble of bringing the carcass down the side of the mountain.

BROOKLYN MASONRY TAKE AN OUTING.

At a recent meeting of the members of Zerathoda Lodge, No. 483, F. & A. M., of Brooklyn, the question of selecting a suitable resort for that organization's annual dinner and excursion was discussed. It was decided to make a trip to the Catskill Mountains. Last year the Lodge visited Martha's Vineyard. About 125 members of the Lodge arrived here last night on the steamer "City of Kingston." This morning they boarded the 7:40 train on the Ulster & Delaware Railroad and thence over the Stony Clove and Catskill Mountain and the Kaaterskill Railroads to the Hotel Kaaterskill. Though the weather was unfavorable for sight-seeing, the trip through the Stony Clove Notch was enjoyed. Dinner was served at the Kaaterskill. Toasts were made and responded to by Past Master John Berry, of the Brooklyn Tax Department; Folk Berry, City Controller; Lawrence Torney, County Treasurer; H. R. VanKeuren, Secretary of the Brooklyn and New York Bridge Company, and others. The party will return to Rondout on the 5:30 o'clock train this evening, and board the "City of Kingston" for New York City.

THE STATE MUSIC TEACHERS.

Another Session Held in Hudson To-Day—Officers Elected, Etc.

At the business session of the State Music Teachers' Association this morning a constitution and by-laws were adopted. The Association was formally organized by the election of Professor Charles W. Landon, of Claverack, President, and George F. Greene, of Troy, Secretary and Treasurer. President Landon was empowered to appoint a Vice-President in each County of the State and several standing committees. The next annual meeting of the Association will be held at Saratoga Springs. Albert Ross Parsons read an essay on "The Principles of Expression Applied to the Piano-forte." This afternoon Theodore Imbert read an essay on "American Church Music from Continental Times to Recent Composers." This evening a concert will be held. Mrs. Teresa Carreno will preside at the piano. The Convention will adjourn to-morrow evening.

Horse Thieves Captured.

John A. Mullen, of Lackawack, has just completed a six weeks' tour through the northern counties of this State. He is an officer of the American & European Service Detective Agency, and has aided in the capture and breaking up of a desperate and clever gang of horse thieves that have been working in Orange, Ulster, Delaware, Otsego and Chenango counties. The leaders of the gang would send their men out in the disguise of laborers, who would hire out to farmers, and work a few weeks at a place, and after finding out about the best horses in the vicinity, would report to headquarters. A skilled member of the gang would then be sent out to make the capture. When a horse was captured, if a valuable animal, it was passed from one to another of the gang until a safe distance was reached, when it would be sold.

Odd Fellows' Loss.

A Committee of Pennsylvania Odd Fellows, sent last week to visit the scene of the Johnstown disaster, reports a loss to the order of 33 members, 34 wives and 100 children by the flood. Three hundred members lost their household goods, and 225 owned houses and stores, which were lost. The Grand Master of this State sent a circular letter to all the lodges of the State, and the latter have responded without exception, the total amount contributed being over $9,000.

"The King's Daughters."

The Junior Branch of "The King's Daughters" gave a successful entertainment on the lawn at Cloverly, the residence of Mrs. James L. VanDeusen, yesterday afternoon and last evening. Music, recitations and dialogues were rendered, after which refreshments were served. In a quiet way the members of the Junior Branch of "The King's Daughters" are doing a good work. Their motto is "In His Name."
